

Tracy South
Senior Vice President, Human Resources, North America

Tracy joined Mosaic with 21 years of human resource management expertise, having worked for several national organizations in the financial services and healthcare industries. Most recently, Tracy was the vice president of corporate HR for Tenet Healthcare Corporation, the second-largest investor-owned hospital company in the U.S.. Prior to Tenet, she spent eleven years with Aetna and eight years with American General in key human resource leadership roles as well as other business functions such as customer quality, marketing and strategy.

Tracy joined Mosaic in 2003 as senior vice president of human resources. Since that time, clients and employees alike have recognized her for bringing together human resources with business strategies, and enhancing organizational performance. Tracy continues to ensure that recruiting and retention, learning, talent identification and development, compensation, performance management and workplace policies and practices are all delivered efficiently and effectively, and with an aim to best serve our clients.